STATINTL

In our letters to you requesting security classification reviews of specified sections of the National Intelligence Studies, we have indicated a date by which time we would like to have a response. In view of problems encountered which make it impossible for you to meet these deadlines, we are rescinding all deadlines which we have previously indicated and ask instead that your responses be returned to us as soon as practicable. Meanwhile, we will continue to make available to you, as quickly as possible, copies of those NIS Sections not in your library.

Sincerely,

Chief, Classification Review Division
Office of Information Services
Central Intelligence Agency
